Purpose: The Interfaith Ambassadors serve as student leaders for the multifait community, embracing students from all faiths and non-faith backgrounds. We aim to create an inclusive campus climate, while encouraging friendly and evocative dialogue. Our organization rests on three pillars: education, service, and leadership, and we look to serve the greater Gainesville community as well as the University of Florida through meaningful programs and community service work. Our leaders act as the University of Florida's official liaisons for the national Better Together movement. We are not a missionary organization, but rather an organization with a mission.

Activities: Our organization achieves our mission by having monthly discussions open to the UF student body centered on religious topics and by hosting events such as "Speedfaithing," "Interfaith Thanksgiving" and "Multifaith Music Fest" where the student body can learn more about other cultures and faiths. We participate in the "Better Together" movement, and we also raise cultural awareness by hosting events during Week of Interfaith.
