SGP and ACCENT Present Stand-Up Comedian Bob Saget

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Student Government Productions and ACCENT Speakers Bureau is proud to announce that Bob Saget will perform a stand-up comedy show at the Stephen C. O’Connell Center on Wednesday, March 26. This show is for mature audiences only. The show begins at 8 p.m. and doors open at 7 p.m. The event is free and open to the public with first come first serve seating.

Before Saget’s performance, comedian Anthony Jeselnik will open the show. Jeselnik has been featured on Comedy Central’s “Premium Blend,” ABC’s “Jimmy Kimmel Live,” and NBC’s “Last Call with Carson Daly.”

Bob Saget, who is widely known for his roles on television’s “Full House” and “America’s Funniest Home Videos,” has been doing comedy for about 30 years. He has been featured in a variety of movies and television shows and is currently the host of NBC’s game show “1 vs. 100.” Saget recently ended a four-month role in the Broadway musical “The Drowsy Chaperone.” His HBO comedy special, “That Ain’t Right,” was released on DVD in August 2007.

SGP is an agency of the University of Florida Student Government, whose mission is to provide a diverse array of popular entertainment to students at a free or reduced cost. SGP is funded by University of Florida students’ Activities and Service fees in their tuition. SGP also joins with other student groups, such as Hispanic Heritage Month and Black History Month to co-sponsor events.

ACCENT Speaker’s Bureau, the largest student-run speakers bureau in the nation, has been bringing prominent speakers to the University of Florida since the 1960s. Past speakers include Presidents, Prime Ministers, entertainment, media, business and sports legends.
